

Rights and Position of the Accused Person

The accused person is a person, against whom criminal prosecution has been initiated. In individual stages of criminal proceedings this person has different names and is endowed with a certain catalogue of rights and obligations, to which also correspond the rights and obligations of authorities involved in criminal proceedings... read more

Rights and Position of Juvenile Accused Person

A juvenile is a person, who has reached the age of fifteen but has not turned eighteen at the time of committing the transgression. The specialties of criminal proceedings conducted against juveniles is based on the endeavor to maximize the educational effect of the proceedings, to reduce harmful effects thereof and to protect his rights... read more

Defense

The fundamental right of the accused person is the right for defense. It guarantees full protection of lawful interests and (other) rights of this person in criminal proceedings... read more